ALIOTO'S BAR & GRILL

3041 N MAYFAIR ROAD, WAUWATOSA, WI

Too Lean

by: BOB DOERING, QE at Stoneridge, Inc. Lexington, OH

CONTENT SUMMARY

Listen to what happens when a simple attempt to implement SPC unearths some disturbing quality and process design flaws.

Everything from gage choice and usage, process flow, machine location, material temperature control and incorrect specification all come together to create a whirlwind of chaos.

This is a real case study, scrubbed to protect the victim. See how a few useful tools sort out the mess. But can it be totally fixed? Find out!

NOTE: There is NO pre-meeting Roundtable Discussion this month.

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

Bob Doering has been in the quality field for over 16 years. He is currently a quality engineer for an automotive component manufacturing firm. He has industrial experience for over 34 years, many of which were in precision machining of automotive and medical components. He is an adjunct instructor at Lorain County Community College in Engineering Technology and Enrollment Services departments, and has lectured classes in Metrology and Quality Management. He holds associates degrees from Lorain County Community College of Elyria, Ohio and The University of Akron of Akron, Ohio; BA in Business and MBA in Systems Management from Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio. He holds CMI and formerly held CMQ/OE, CQE, CQA certifications. He has implemented the CorrectSPC concepts in precision machining for over 10 years with significant success.

A Great Opportunity for ASQ MKE Members

When most high school students think of careers, they think of becoming a teacher, engineer, working in health care, etc. Most college bound students have no idea of the occupations available in the Quality Profession, and therefore never think of pursuing that vocation.

As a result of this lack of knowledge, the leadership team of your Milwaukee section attended career days at Hartford High School last year. When students, parents, and teachers stopped at our booth, we were asked what we made or what we sold? When we discussed ASQ and the quality professions and salaries that are available, they were very shocked and very impressed.

Your leadership team has decided to continue participating in career days at Hartford High School this year, and also expand participation to include all of Washington County. The Hartford High School Career Day will be on March 16th from 4:30PM until 6:30PM, and the Washington County Career day will be on March 17th from 8:00AM until 3:00PM at the Washington County Fair Park.

We know that you are proud to be a Quality Professional, and we are requesting that you share your knowledge and enthusiasm with our future generation. If you could donate some time on either of the days listed in this article, please contact Allen Rothman at acrisqa1@gmail.com or call him at 262-397-8066.

There is no greater gift than to give of ourselves to others, and we know that you would personally enjoy and appreciate the assistance that you would be providing.

Note: If you would like us to be part of a high school career day where you live, please let us know the date and details for future consideration.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best Regards,

Allen C. Rothman, Past Chair/Arrangements & Publicity Chairman

Community Service Gardening Project at ASQ's World Conference

Sunday, May 15
8 a.m.-1:30 p.m.

Stretch your legs and do some gardening and networking for a great cause! ASQ is partnering with Walnut Way, a Milwaukee-based organization that works to sustain economically diverse communities through civic engagement, environment stewardship, and creating venues for prosperity.

Volunteers will take part in a group tour of the Walnut Way campus and help with urban agriculture production as a team. Activities may include watering, weeding, planting trees, mulching, installing garden beds, clearing vacant lots, harvesting, canning, and weighing crops. Vans will transport volunteers from Wisconsin Center to the Walnut Way campus. All volunteers will receive a boxed lunch, water, and a free T-shirt onsite.

Check-in at 8 a.m. Vans leave at 8:30 a.m.

Location: Pick-up/drop-off location is Wisconsin Center, Wells Street entrance.

Space is limited to 25 participants!

Register at:
